Angelina Umansky at Spa Radiance

Russian-born esthetician and spa owner Angelina Umansky is the go-to for “Pacific Heights ladies who go to events three times a week,” as she puts it. Her Quadruple Lift Facial uses lymphatic massage, Biologique Recherche masks and serums, microcurrents, and a deep-muscle massage technique Umansky learned from her great-grandmother. The Lift Body Treatment—which also uses full-body lymphatic drainage and seaweed to instantly firm and lift—takes off inches in just one session.
